A Fire-Proof Press.

The most remarkable proof of the vitality of a live newspaper has been shown by the ate Chicago fire. The discontinuance of the Chicago TRIBUNE for a single day-while the fire was still raging—was felt to be a public calamity, and its appearance was welcomed by an eager crowd standing for hours waiting is turn to be served. Its courageous voice inspired life and hope in the souls of a sore-stricken people, and stirred the hearts of the best men in two hemispheres. Its words of cheer, day after day, lifted thousands from the depths of despair to the heights of a noble manhood and encouraged them to the work of re-building Chicago and their own fortunes. When it seemed weakest it was strongest, when poorest it was richest; for though the fire consumed its material forms, its good name, with its heritage of good will and its invincible spirit, were imperishable. Its living, working, guiding and propelling force survives, and will quickly re-create what the fire destroyed.

A noticeable peculiarity of the Tribune is that it boasts not of to-morrow-nor of teday. Instead of promising, it does. Its work is witness for it. After the fire, it brought a four-cylinder Hoe press through from New York in thirty-six hours, but did not herald it, and its readers were not told that it threw aside as old type, $8,000 worth of new type—such as it could lay its hands on for the moment—that it might appear in a more comely dress. Facts like these reveal the secret of its success and power.

As a news paper it is unrivalled in the West. It has the latest news by telegraph and mail from all quarters of the globe up to the hour of going to press, reports of the proceedings of Congress, of Western Legislatures, and of all important public meetings and speeches, able correspondents at all the great political and commercial centers, full and complete market reports of all kinds, agricultural, financial, and commercial intelligence, literary notices and reviews of books, and whatever concerns the farmer, the mechanic, the laborer, the capitalist, the merchant, and business man.

The Tribune both represents and creates public sentiment, leading rather than following it. It grapples with living issues, and lets the dead bury their dead. Always outspoken and manly, sometimes mistaken but always independent, it represents the vital spirit, the progressive, conquering ele-ment and the best men of the Republican party, and is the determined foe of deadbeats, incompetents, thieves, corruptionists and sycophants in all parties. Equal rights for all, amnesty for rebels, a tariff for public revenue only, the public lands for actual settlers and not for corporations, and a reform of the civil service that shall make fitness instead of partizan zeal or personal tavoritism the test of preferment to officethis is the political platform on which it proposes to sustain the Republican party in the Presidential campaign of 1872.

The Little Corporal,

First in the list of Juvenile Magazines, is more full of life, spice, and interest since the fire than ever. Its editor, Mrs. Emily Huntington Miller, with ber rare genius for interesting children, has given it a national reputation, and made it a welcome and indispensable guest in a hundred thousand households. Its prominent features the coming year will be a $500 prize story by Helen C. Weeks, a continuation of the Editor's "Summer Days," so attractive to young dear, and so early taken! #### FACES ON THE WALL.

BY MARRIET BEECHER STOWE. Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "My Wife and I," " Minister's Wooing," etc. Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see youder in the glen the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not restto the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep,

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep" would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amuseeyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured ONLY 3 DOLLARS PER YEAR. face a real companion. Not only in the parlor or the sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are por traits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says somewhere of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest regions of the earth speaking of children who resembled her-so one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts. Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dol-lars and a chromo which can scarcely be dis-tinguished from it at ton deligns, portion tinguished from it at ten dollars-particu- lish artist, fully equal for their size (10) x12% inches) larly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by hand. painted by hand.

Blessings upon chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art and children-have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are

CONSUMPTION OR COUGH!

PLEASE

Read the Following Letter:

Mount Vernon, Ill., April 29, 1871.

Messers. J. N. Harris & Co., Cincinnati. Onto:

Gentlemen—I heard one of my customers speak in such high terms of Alien's Lung Balsom to-day that I thought I would write you the substance of his statements. He says his mother, who is now sixty years of age, has suffered with consumption for severally years of age, has suffered with consumption for severally years of age, has suffered with consumption for severally years of age, has suffered to every kind of Cough and Lung Balsam that could be procured for her, but all to no avail. She still grew worse, until she was confined to her bed; and when she was seized with a paroxysm of coughing she would lose the power of respiration, and they were compelled to resort to various means to restore breathing; and while she coughed so hard she could not expectorate anything, and the family and friends had given up all hopes of her recovery. Her son noticed the advertisement of Allen's Lung Balsam in the Christian Advocate, and they thought they would procure and try it. They commenced giving her the Balsam at 5 o'clock P. M., as directed, a dose every hour until midnight; then she took another spell of coughing, and expectorated a mouthful of dark, yellow matter, which was something she had not been able to do for sometime. They continued to give her the Balsam until morning, and then she began to expectorate freely, and within three hours she has continued to improve. She now sits up all day, and can walk about the house and take considerable out-door exercise. Her son bought more of the Balsam to-day, and he is recommending it very highly to every one.

Yours respectfully,

A. C. JOHNSON, Druggist.

Was there ever greater proof of merit than the case this letter refers to?
ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is without doubt the mest expectorant memeny ever offered to the afflicted public. It contains no opinm in any form, and its use is harmless to the most delicate.

Warning Words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two ceasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the tomachies at present known, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization-the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but perform the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitinted Blood, which is generally produced by derangement

Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and stimy deposits that breef these living mounters of disease. No System of Mesicine, no vermitages, no suthelminities will free the system from worms like these litters.

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties, with no dangerous ingred-ient. A remedy at hand for the many pains and noises, wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect, but always relieving never producing a bad effect, but always relieving pain, however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success.

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are. Chilhtains. Rheumatism. Plles. Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum. Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores. Felous, Pimples, Erusipelas, Sore Eyes, Burber's Itch. Deafness, Bolls, Ring-worms, Corns, Biles of Essects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldwess, Swollen Breasts, Itch. Scald Head, Teething, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts. Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children

Scatds, Cats. Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied. Rub it on well with the hand three times a day. In several cases it has cured palsied limbs. For Piles it has been discovered to be a sure remedy. Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications. For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately. Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It is good in cases of Scrafula and Tumors. Cancers have been cured with it. The best Salve ever invented for Swollen Breast and Sore Nipples. No way injurious, but sure to afford relief. Sore or Weak Eyes—Rub it on the lids gently, once or twice a day. Cures deafness by putting in the ears on a piece of cotton. For Felons this is superior to anything known. For Pimples this acts like a charm. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief. For Old Sores, apply once a day.

Not among the least of the invaluable properties. Sores on Children

Not among the least of the invaluable properties Not among the least of the invaluable properties of Miss Sawyer's Salve are its beneficial effects on the hair. Rubbed on the scalp, in five or six different parts, it promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it turning gray, and on baid spots it produces a new growth of hair. No lady should be without this invaluable article as an indispensable cosmetic for the toilet. It eradicates dandruff and disease from the head, and blotches and pimples from the face.

We, the undersigned, have been acquainted with Miss Sawyer for many years, and believe her to be a Christian lady and a skilful nurse, and having used her salve in our families, it gives us great pleasure in saying it is the best general medicine we have ever used:
